Memo from

JOSHUA LEDERBERG

To: Nils Fries

NOV 10 1976

P.S. — re Tatum memoir

Further to my note of a few days ago.

As I now recall that you met Ed at Utrecht, may I focus my questions to you on that interval (1936-37).

Do you recall

1) What Ed worked on at that time? (I have not found any publications)

2) How he happened to choose that lab?

3) What you can recall of his intellectual outlook at that time?

4) How he was recruited from there to Stanford?

Is there an "intimate history" of biotin in print?

Cordially,

PROFESSOR JOSHUA LEDERBERG
Department of Genetics
School of Medicine
Stanford University
Stanford, California 94305