Memo from To: Bernie

JOSHUA LEDERBERG

APR 14 1978

Thanks for the texts.

These don't impute any positions to me for asking, but I am curious about ~~[illegible]~~ your reasons for such a categorical statement that clonal reproduction in man will and should be forbidden. (Monozygotic twins too – if they could be anticipated?) I assume you go beyond the risks of an untried technology. Are you afraid it will significantly displace exogamy? Or is it that the heat is too strong?

Josh

PROFESSOR JOSHUA LEDERBERG
Department of Genetics
School of Medicine
Stanford University
Stanford, California 94305