Dear Josh -

I apologize for not informing you that this problem has been solved.

It finally dawned on me that the number given in your strain list for the "parent" of the parent of W4183 must be a Cavalli number and not a Wisconsin number. I wrote to Cavalli, he kindly wrote to Italy, someone kindly sent copies of the appropriate pages of his strain notebook, and the pedigree for W4183 is now complete (enclosed).

In the meantime Somerville checked out the strain and mapped the arg marker. It is argG and the strain behaves as it should.

So everyone is happy and I am sorry that I bothered you about this. Thank you for offering to help.

Sincerely,
Barbara
