Dear Don:

I've been meaning to write long before to tell you how delighted and excited we all were when we heard about the Nobel Prize. I went around boasting about how you spent (6 weeks?) in my lab in your senior year. — But as I recall you needed little or no advice as to problem or how to proceed.

Ed Hunter dug up this program of the Senior Research program — which I enclose in case you have any sentimental memories of same. Someone told me you even mentioned this brief period with us as having some effect on your career — I really doubt it — you already had the urge and the proper instincts —

I'm still plugging along — actually quite excited about our current research — The new Dept head — Phil Needleman is really great — and shows no signs of wanting me to quit — so I shall continue as long as the grey cells hold out —

With best wishes and congratulations

Ollie —
