Memo/Reply From
JOSHUA LEDERBERG

TO: Dave Bobrow

MAY 22 1979

Arms Control as Defense Policy.

It may be time to write a history of the idea of this kind of bargaining.

I don't know if you'll find it in Clausewitz. It was certainly absent at the Casablanca Conference (and Unconditional Surrender Doctrine). Kecskemeti may be the author of the postwar revival/invention ... but of course it was the Bomb that compelled it. Have you ever thought of such an enterprise?

xf Steele
WW 2
Uncond. Surr

Joshua Lederberg
President
The Rockefeller University
New York, N.Y. 10021
(212) 360-1234

☐ ORIG.
☐ COPY RETAINED

—REPLY FORM—