Calcutta,

Dear Ester & Josh

I arrived here yesterday night and after the detention of 4 hrs in the Customs office: I got out. I had enough troubles and learned a lesson. They confiscated my camera and when I explained about using it and taking it with me back, they asked me to deposit a tax of $ 100. As I did not have that much to spare I left the camera with them and asked them to send it to Delhi prior to my departure. Hope they handle it well.

After the above formalities were over, to my disgust I found that ~~Calc~~ my suit cases & Brief case were left out in Rangoon by mistake and they traced it only this morning. I am waiting and waiting for its arrival so that I can get out of this ~~fetting~~ city.

I have to go again to the airport to check out these when they arrive. ~~is~~ Since my data everything in the suit case and brief case, I hope I will get them.

I visited the Calcutta university and gave a seminar. Burma is here. Now I realize how much I love States and California. Since there is nothing I can do ~~with~~ right now, just sitting and thinking about various things I have no clothes even to change here. It is hot and sticky. Hope you both are having good time there - I try to finish this visit and plan to be back as early as I can. I shall write to you soon after I hear from the airways.

Kindl regards

Jam
