Personal Memo from
JOSHUA LEDERBERG

Prof. V. Walbot
Biology - Stanford

Dev Regulation of TE's

JUL - 4 1990

I was interested to see your paper in Science 6/22.

Barbara was never very lucid about this, but from 1951 on I thought the logic of her relating [TE's] to development was the size distribution of the mutant spots.

But did she not have different modal sizes for different TE's? Or am I confounding different strains? My memory is not too precise; but see encl.

---

I am restarting my own research (on relationship of transcription to mutagenesis in bacteria) - if you could reload my files with your recent publications, they would be most helpful.

Sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg

CSH '57: p24

7/5/90 MG

THE ROCKEFELLER UNIVERSITY NEW YORK 10021

X.. → with P27x; 90M.