To Dr Lederberg,

thank you for sending article on late + early bloomers. One category was left out - early bloomers who turn away from science.

I would like to conduct a prospective study of the physical growth, development + puberty of children showing precocity in science or humanities. My impression is that early bloomers in thinking are also early bloomers in physical development.

I enjoyed the stimulating luncheon conversation —

thank you

Maria Reed

P.S. Did you keep all your early letters? that in itself indicates your unusual qualities early — ☺
