Dear Dr. Lederberg, Friday.

This is just a note to thank you for all the time you gave up to my visit and to your wife for her hospitality. Also many thanks for the reprints and list of publications.

While I was at Caltech I made some enquiries of the archivist about the circumstances of Pauling's resignation from Caltech. His story about the hounding by the trustees (chiefly in correspondence of Du Bridge and Earnest Watson) can be documented from the early 50s. Their behaviour over the Peace Prize (Du Bridge's) was the last straw in a long series over a period of ten years. Pauling resigned within a few days of Du Bridge's back-handed congratulation in the Los Angeles Times in 1963, when P. had at least 3 years to go to retirement.

With best wishes,

Yours Sincerely,

Robert Olby.

OLBY Robert
