10th July

Dear Joshua

Thanks for your letter. It was a pleasant surprise to hear from you again.

Alas, I am spending the first part of the week down here and shall not be back until Thursday.

If you are coming back through London and have some time to spare I should very much like to see you again.

I can be contacted at 837-7842 during the day. If I am not there my secretary will know where I am.

I am now entirely concerned with computing of a rather pedestrian kind. I miss the lab. work still, it was much more soothing to the nerves.

I have followed the fortunes of Heuristic Dendral with great interest but its difficult to reproduce it in 32K even if I were clever enough.

If I don't see you before you get back to Stanford give my best wishes to Bruce Stocker, and I hope I see you next time round.

Yours

Clive (Spicer)
