

Memo/Reply From
JOSHUA LEDERBERG

TO: Prof. Ptashne

Aug 2 1978

Thank you for your note

(1) Hiroshima. There is no doubt of the sharp rise in leukemia. I said that the mutagenesis (though firmly predicted from other studies) could not be demonstrated in human populations

(2) The most cautious and fair minded review of X44 is Wilkins:

Science, 193:547 (1976)

I don't think that "moral stoniness" quite captures the behavior pattern. Nor, let it be said, does the "callous aggressiveness" that the media asserted.

Memo/Reply From
JOSHUA LEDERBERG

TO:

If there were less public fascination it might be possible to do the prospective studies needed to clear up the etiology; that seems out of the question now.

Sincerely,

Joshua

same MD

ORIG. RETAINED
 COPY

Joshua Lederberg
President
The Rockefeller University
New York, N.Y. 10021
(212) 360-1234

- REPLY FORM -