Memo from
JOSHUA LEDERBERG

To: Alan Garen

MAY 24 1978

I hope I never turn away good advice, solicited or not!

I will know better what I can do with such ideas after I've been in place for a while and then, indeed, will be glad to have a chance to talk it over! ~~But~~ Parts 2 and 3 are reasonably well represented, e.g. by Jack Fishman; I am not sure how much spillover there is from embryology to more basic systems: if Drosophila were already represented you would have told me.

Have you given a seminar at RU in the last few years? If not, I hope you will some time that my own column is free also. Till then, Josh.

PROFESSOR JOSHUA LEDERBERG
Department of Genetics
School of Medicine
Stanford University
Stanford, California 94305

Sent?