Good news + good luck.

As you may recall I have never seen any other way than large-scale multi-processors. I hope your team has figured out how.

I've not been able to tell you before that my declining to serve on your board, some years ago when I lived near by, was not really my personal free choice. That's all water under the bridge (and I'm sure I've recalled + regretted it far more than you); but I feel it's left a small mar on our relationship, one that over the years I would have wished to nurture. No, I'm not going to pester - you about board'ing at the Center or at R.U. but I would like to call on you this summer when I'm in Palo Alto and explain that history.

All the best
Joshua.
