

Research Institute for Microbial Diseases
Osaka University
Osaka, Japan

Dr. J. Lederberg
Department of Genetics
College of Agriculture
University of Wisconsin
Madison, Wisconsin
U. S. A.

November 6, 1953

Dear Dr. Lederberg:

Sincerely thanks for your kind letter of November 1, including your thoughtful advice on my publication in some American journal.

I am very sorry to write here that my manuscript on Leishmania had already sent to you, before I received your letter which arrived this morning.

As you suggested, if it would be more suitable for the Journal of Protozoology, may I ask you to transfer my manuscript to Dr. Sonneborn. However, if it would be possible to be publish in J. Bacteriology, I think it is unnecessary to ask him. My manuscript will arrive there within a week, so I hope it would be criticised from the point of genetics, and ~~then decide and~~ send it to Dr. Sonneborn, if necessary. please

Excuse me for bothering you so much.

Truthfully yours,

Shozo Inoki

Shozo Inoki