Dear Joshua:

Dr. Richard Shader, Dr. Herbert Weiner and Dr. Robert Rieber and I have agreed to start a new periodical entitled, A Critical Guide to the Pyschiatric Literature out of our mutual dismay with the poor quality of book reviews appearing in the general medical and specialized psychiatric journals at this time. Dr. Shader, currently Director of Psychopharmacology at Harvard, has agreed to monitor the reviews in the field of psychopharmacology and psychiatric education. Dr. Weiner, chairman of the department of psychiatry at Montefiore, will monitor the areas of psychophysiology and clinical psychiatry. Dr. Rieber, Ph.D. of N.Y.S. Psychiatric Institute, Columbia U. and John Jay College of C.U.N.Y., will monitor the area of medical psychology and neuropsychology. I will serve as editor and founder. They have agreed to serve as associate editors.

We are asking you to join us as members of the Editorial Board to serve as resource participants for books you agree to review, or to take responsibility for having someone else to review for the Guide. We hope to pay $100.00 for every review that is accepted.

Our reviews will focus on the intention of the author, the extent to which it is fulfilled, the lacks or deficiencies of the work and the substance of its contribution to psychiatric treatment resources.

We will emphasize thoroughness, the utmost clarity, and, hopefully, wit.

Sincerely,
