Dear Josh:

Ryan & Lederberg (1946), ref. 901, is referred to under leu-1 on page 485 of our compendium.

I'll see you're sent a reprint as soon as we have them from the journal.

I don't know of any work on the leu-1 heterokaryon competition system since 1946. However, I have heard a similar situation evoked in attempts to explain behavior of a serine mutant which appears to revert frequently at an apparently optimal level of supplementation, but less frequently at higher levels. But I don't think this was ever documented.

Dot joins me in sending warm regards.

David Perkins
