Dear Lederberg,

I would be very grateful if you could let me know whether you have published, or have in the press, any papers on antigen inheritance in Salmonella. Just now I am preparing a large review of Paramecium genetics, and plan to include a discussion of relevant material from other organisms. Dr. Sonneborn informed me that he thought you had discussed in some paper a comparison of the antigen systems of Salmonella and Paramecium, but I have not been able to find such a paper.

With best regards,

Yours sincerely,

Beale
