Dear Joshua:

Many thanks for your letter. We have made reservations for you at the Palace Hotel which is within walking distance from the institute. It is more modern than the Grand and less sumptuous. Please let us know the exact time of your arrival. Unfortunately, I have an unavoidable commitment at a faculty dinner during the evening of May 27 but Eva and Dr. Révész will meet you at the airport. I hope to join you later. We have arranged the formal suit for the graduation ceremony; it will be sent to your hotel on Thursday.

We certainly do hope to see as much of you as possible. I have arranged your visit at Uppsala for June 1. Dr. Böök hopes that you will speak to his group in an informal way at the institute at about 10.30 Monday morning. Please let us know if there is anything else that has to be taken care of.

We seem to be singularly unsuccessful in our attempts to get a visiting professor in Microbial Genetics. Unfortunately, this will be more or less a test case for this sort of arrangement and we are very anxious to be able to follow up our plans. I should appreciate it very much if we could discuss this seriously.

Looking forward very much to see you and Esther soon,

Yours as ever,

George
