This is no reflection on the substance of any enclosure, but I do think grantors must be cautioned not to "officialize" their role via NIH or NIMH.

A study of child-rearing practices which reveals relationships between . . .

PARENTAL CONTROL
AND PARENTAL LOVE

DIANA BAUMRIND
Director, USPHS Project: Parental Influence
Institute of Human Development, University of California, Berkeley

followed by many university administrators.

I am enclosing a copy of this letter when I answer my correspondents so as to allocate to you proper credit for your reworking of my research reports.

Sincerely yours,

Diana Baumrind, Ph.D.
Project Director

---

"A National Institute of Child Health and Development project for the study of child-rearing attitudes and practices."