Dear John,

Thank you so much...
for your kind letters and refreshment with Rheumodex. As you know, they have marked my career in several ways, including the preservation of parasitology at the R.U. By the way, if you haven't seen Bill Truax's book...

...and for your kind appreciation.

They embolden me to ask if you can help integrate this letter from Francis which I just retrieved (unfiled).

I try to ponder, what was my misbehavior? Insanity? Bad behavior? What power did I have to "trample over people"?

Of course, I can recall being argumentative. Was this perhaps an act of rebellion? It was certainly an act of fascination with the fight, so I took (and take) his remarks very seriously.

Yours,

Joshua
