

STANFORD UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF MEDICINE
STANFORD MEDICAL CENTER
300 PASTEUR DRIVE, PALO ALTO, CALIFORNIA

DEPARTMENT OF GENETICS

DAvenport 1-1200
Ext. 3032

Fri 9/16/66

Dear Howard—

This piece on CBR could be used for the Science & Man column for Sept. 25, but that would interrupt a series on the Pill. So, if agreeable, I would prefer to submit it as an extra mid-week item, available any time from Sept. 20 on. Please let* me know which you decide to do. sf

If you do have a chance to call me back, I might then insert any last minute corrections, if any that might be needed. But don't let that possibility impede the promptest use<sup>d</sup> of the piece. Frankly I would prefer to see it come out about Wednesday, on my personal motive to maintain a non-transient interest in the question.

This does not belong in the same semi-jocular category as my suggestion about exporting Fort Knox to a European depository. I guess my thoughts on this don't thoroughly jibe with the Post's editorial policy; but if isolationism is what the ed-writer is worried about, I guess depositing the gold abroad would be an even firmer commitment against that!

Sincerely,

Joshua
x Joshua Lederberg.

\ #2 will be mailed out Monday.*