:drinking water standards and research

Dear Congressman Robison:

Where does this matter stand now? Have hearings been held?

Do you know how water-hygiene research is making out in the 1972 budget cycle? Is the responsibility for this entirely in EPA now?

I have just been lecturing on water safety to my course here on "Human Ecology", and realized I was falling behind in the currency of my information, with all of the administrative reorganizations that have been put into effect during the last year.

The article by Mr. Johnson that you had inserted into the record was most helpful.

Sincerely,

X
