

p 214

AUG 27 1973

Social Research

AN INTERNATIONAL QUARTERLY
EDITED BY THE GRADUATE FACULTY

NEW SCHOOL FOR SOCIAL RESEARCH
65 Fifth Ave., (Rm. 351) New York, N.Y. 10003 — 675-2700

August 24, 1973

Professor Joshua Lederberg
Department of Genetics
School of Medicine
Stanford University
Stanford, California 94305

Dear Professor Lederberg:

I have now had a chance to read your essay, and it will be a privilege to include it in the special issue on Human Nature. I found it immensely interesting and was particularly pleased by the moral tone. Your criticism directed to those on the right and on the left of the issues discussed is extremely persuasive.

Again thank you.

Sincerely yours,

Arien Mack
Editor

AM:mb