Savoy Hotel, London.

Sir Sam. Hughes to W.O.
21 September 1916.

(type-written)

Dear Sir William,

Your telegram, which came during my absence inspecting timber camps in the north, reached my notice only to-day.

I am at a loss to understand your interest in this matter but if you will be good enough to see me I will be pleased to hear your explanation as to why you ask for the information.

I presume you have returned to Oxford.

Faithfully,
Sam Hughes.
