DIRECTORY OF REGIONAL MEDICAL PROGRAMS
Revised as of June 1, 1970

July 20, 1970 - Vol. 4, No. 273

This revised DIRECTORY OF REGIONAL MEDICAL PROGRAMS updates and supersedes the previous edition of this publication, issued as News, Information and Data of July 15, 1969.

This latest edition contains pertinent organizational information on all 55 Regional Medical Programs. Also included is an Overview of Programs which reflects some collective and comprehensive facts and figures on all of the Programs.

CONTENTS

	Page
Index of Programs. . . . .	I - IV
Program Listings (Alphabetical). . . . .	1 - 116
Overview of Programs . . . . .	117 - 124

Note: To provide a more comprehensive picture of each Regional Medical Program, it is suggested that the most recent edition of the DIRECTORY can be used in combination with the SELECTED BIBLIOGRAPHY OF REGIONAL MEDICAL PROGRAMS (Revised January 1970). This latter publication lists published materials which reflect activities of each of the Regional Medical Programs.

Few Regions have refined boundaries. Hawaii added Guam, American Samoa and Trust Territories. Nassau-Suffolk RMP was formed from counties in Metropolitan New York. Nine Regions reported small boundary changes, mostly adding and subtracting specific counties.

SUBREGIONS

- . 33 Regions are now developing 167 subregions.
- . 4-6 subregions per Region is average.
- . Within a few years, almost all Regions will have them -- totally about 300 subregions.
- . RMP local action groups often serve as subregional planning groups. Some Regions have subregional offices and staffs.

Almost half of these committees are organized according to categorical diseases, and the remaining in areas such as manpower, training, data collection, hospital planning, and evaluation. They have:

- . Reviewed 1700 projects and approved 690 of them.
- . Studied needs and resources in 48 Regions.

LOCAL AREA AND ADVISORY GROUPS

PURPOSE: TO STUDY AND PROPOSE ACTIVITIES TO MEET COMMUNITY NEEDS AND TO STRENGTHEN RELATIONSHIPS AMONG LOCAL INSTITUTIONS AND WITH THE MEDICAL CENTER.

- . 27 Regions have 335 such groups (4800 persons)
- . 129 of these are located in the Georgia Region
- . Most are based out of community hospitals and include representatives of local hospitals, local health professionals and other community leaders.
- . Many do cooperative planning with CHP(b) agencies.
- . Composition more consumer and hospital oriented. Thus different from other planning groups in RMP.
